Help your clients make informed choices

Your clients rely on you to advise them about charitable giving, so we are making it easy for you to show them the differences between establishing their own Fund at York County Community Foundation and starting a private foundation.

While a private foundation can be a terrific option, partnering directly with the Community Foundation can save time and money. Many philanthropists are turning to community foundations like York County Community Foundation to achieve their charitable goals, according to a recent article in the Wall Street Journal. We have prepared a fact sheet highlighting the differences between a fund at York County Community Foundation and a private foundation.

If your client already has a private foundation, they can have greater impact by working with the Community Foundation, which ensures that more of their money goes to charity, not to administrative costs; allows for collaboration with likeminded donors; allows them to gain from the Community Foundation's knowledge of York and specifically the nonprofits in York; and creates a legacy that will forever benefit York County.

There are several ways a private foundation can work with the Community Foundation:

- Create a parallel advised fund to your private foundation.
- Donate your foundation's annual payout to a

- Community Foundation fund.
- Transfer your foundation's assets to an advised fund at the Community Foundation.
